	OCTOBER WEEKLY NEWS STORIES	TIME
Introduction	Hi, I'm Shannon Scott and you're listening to Learning English with the CBC for October 17th with stories that made news over the past week.	0:00
Story 1	Former Alberta Premier Jim Prentice has died. Prentice and three other people were in a small plane that took off from the Kelowna airport Thursday night. It was travelling to the Springbank Airport, just outside of Calgary. It crashed shortly after takeoff, just north of Kelowna. The Transportation Safety Board calls the crash "un-survivable". Prentice became the Premier of Alberta in September of 2014, after winning the leadership of the Progressive Conservative Party. He served as Premier until the election in May 2015. He resigned as both leader and MLA after his party lost power to the Alberta NDP. Before entering provincial politics, Prentice was a Member of Parliament. He served as MP for Calgary Centre-North from 2004 and 2010. He held several cabinet posts in Stephen Harper's cabinet. Prentice is being remembered as a passionate politician and a loving husband, father and grandfather. Jim Prentice was 60 years old.	0:13
Story 2	Republican Presidential candidate Donald Trump is again under fire. This time, for graphic comments he made about women. In a video released last week, Trump is heard talking to television host Billy Bush. He tells Bush about how he can do anything he likes to women because he is famous. Many people believe this is Trump bragging about sexually assaulting women. Trump did offer an apology for the 11-year-old video. During the second presidential debate, he called the comments "locker room talk". At least 30 members of Trump's party have begun withdrawing support from his campaign. Trump did not seem bothered by the move. He Tweeted that now that he is free of the "shackles" of the Republican party, he can campaign the way he wants to. Since the debate, numerous women have come forward saying they were sexually assaulted by Trump. Trump denies all of the allegations.	1:44
Story 3	Johnny Gaudreau is back playing hockey for the Calgary Flames. The Left Winger has signed a new six-year contract worth forty point five million dollars. He had been an unrestricted free agent since his contract expired in	3:00

July. Gaudreau says he's excited to be back with his team. Known as "Johnny Hockey," Gaudreau was the top scorer for the Flames last season. He scored 30 goals and 48 assists in 79 games. He also scored 2 goals and 2 assists as a member of Team North America at the World Cup of Hockey in September. The Flames played their first game of the regular season in Edmonton on Wednesday. They lost to the Oilers 4 to 7.
